Orange Flavours

Citrus and specifically orange flavours, have enjoyed a surge in popularity since the Covid-19 pandemic and it's easy to understand why, with oranges having a clear link to healthy immune-boosting properties. And it's not just been the flavour of choice for obvious categories like drinks, we've seen a huge revival in the classic combination of chocolate orange in snacks and confectionery. With Pulsin adding an Orange Choc & Peanut Keto Bar to their range and Nairns launching a Cacao & Orange flavour Gluten-Free Oat Bar.

Predictions are that this trend for citrus flavours is likely to remain strong for 2022, but evolving with blood orange, grapefruit and yuzu becoming more prominent. Flavours that have already made their mark in the drinks, personal care and eco-household categories.
